

The airwaves are considered public property and historically broadcasters have been asked to provide certain public service in return for the grant of valuable spectrum.

The broadcasters are now using this resource to advance their narrow commercial interests rather than helping spur the flow of unbiased information needed in a vibrant democracy.

Sinclair is abusing its privileges and harming our ability to gain a clear understanding of important public policy issues. Please tell them to either desist or make a balanced response available at no cost to meet with fundamental fairness obligations.
